PROMINENT WRITERS CONTRIBUTE.
"Red" Morgan, noted sport page cartoonist and writer; Sam Crane and Ernest Johnson, basketball experts and dogaters; T. S. CARPENTIER TO VISIT U. S. IN FEBRUARY

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Private advice from Paris indicates that Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, will arrive in this country about mid-February. The French pugilist, challenger for the world's title, now held by Jack Dempsey, will come to the United States to fulfill a contract entirely outside his ring activities, and there is understood to be no intention of his coming to the United States to fight.

For Exhibitions
While Carpentier's manager, Descombes, refuses to divulge the actual conditions embodied in the contract, various promoters appear to take it for granted that the French fighter will be permitted to engage in some form of exhibition boxing activity, and there is certain to be a wild scramble for his services.

In view of his early arrival, it is considered unlikely that Carpentier will definitely attend for a championship bout with Dempsey, even if he is able to do so, before he reaches America. Cable negotiations appear to be under way, and it is understood that the French pugilist and his manager prefer to do business directly with the promoters, who have already passed the $100,000 mark in their bids for the fight.

Boxing in New York
The Frenchman is thoroughly familiar with the fact that a fight bill has been introduced in the New York legislature, and that New Jersey clubs hope to have the present law there changed to permit bouts fully as satisfactory to the boxing fans as the proposed New York regulations.

Old style fullplate. Roadless.

Look at these two plates and use your own reasoning. The roadless has sections on both sides (2), soft rubber next to more gums. Designed to be put in immediately after extraction. It does not touch the hard bone in the roof of the mouth, therefore, it settles with the gums and makes its own bed. No full plate can compare with the fit of this plate, as it settles into its bed, lighter, more tongue room, clearer speech.

Dr. Williams has been making this plate for ten years, and is thoroughly familiar with its construction. Made only by us in El Paso.

Joe Stetcher And Caddock To Meet For Title On Jan. 30

By JACK VEITCH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—There's going to be a terrific struggle at Madison Square garden, January 30, when Joe Stetcher and Jack Caddock meet for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

Caddock, the renowned champion, and Stetcher, his most formidable rival, are not fond of each other. Fact is there's a feud on between them.

Has Not Left Ring.
While Caddock was in France word was passed around that he had retired. Hearing this report Stetcher laid claim to the heavyweight title and proceeded to advertise himself as champion. Caddock returned to find Stetcher wearing his above figure.

Stetcher and his rival have met before. In 1917 they struggled at Omaha, Neb., the match to be decided by the best two out of three falls. Stetcher took the first fall from the down after one hour and 22 minutes of struggle. Caddock came back and took the second fall in one hour and 48 minutes. Then, when the referee called the fighters to the third fall, Stetcher failed to show up and the match was awarded to the down.

Stetcher, however, claimed the heavyweight championship and was eventually acknowledged as the rightful champion. Caddock has since defeated both Vladimir Zuyko and Fitzgerald Lewis, who with himself and Stetcher make up the "big four" who dominate the heavyweight wrestling.

Stetcher is confident.
Despite the decision Caddock holds over Stetcher as a result of the Omaha match the admirers of the Nebraska boy are far from satisfied. Caddock is the better man. They are going to back Stetcher to beat the down when they get together here for their final match. Stetcher is confident. He is so confident that he would gladly agree to wrestle Caddock, winner take all.

In size and weight these two big grapplers are about evenly matched. Stetcher, having slight advantage, Jack Curley says Caddock will weigh about 122 pounds in condition, while Stetcher will tip the beam at about 124 when fully trained for the match.

Stetcher will depend on his already body adjusted to defeat the down. That Stetcher has accounted for victories scored by the Nebraska boy over both Lewis and Zuyko and none is securely clamped on an opponent there is little left but the shouting.

Caddock has no particular hold that he calls his best. He is known as the "wrestler with a thousand arms."

Stetcher is confident.

Stetcher will depend on his already body adjusted to defeat the down.

ED COCHRANE, BRITISH PROMOTER, HAS GOOD WORD FOR FRENCHMAN

By TOM THORPE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—George Carpentier is the greatest fighter in the ring today. Take Charles Caddock and for it.

What's more, Carpentier isn't underrating Jack Dempsey for a minute. He knows all about Jack and realizes what he will go up against when he faces the world's champion.

Cochrane has nothing but praise for Carpentier. He admires the great Frenchman for what he is, but admires him more for his character. He doesn't believe that Carpentier has anything resembling an advantage on his side in comparison to Dempsey.

He is a Good One.
"Carpentier is the greatest fighter in the ring today," said Cochrane, recently, discussing the ability of the French champion with the writer.

"He is a split-second thinker and the most intelligent and cunning student of an opponent I have ever seen."

"What the Frenchman doesn't know about fighting is not worth discussing. He's really well full of tricks and he has a manner of knowing fighting inside out."

Why has he never won a world title? Cochrane says that is because he is a fighter, not a showman. He is a fighter, not a showman. He is a fighter, not a showman. He is a fighter, not a showman.

Tom Goes to Canyons.
The first half blow of the bout, a left hook to the stomach, sent Cochrane down for the count of nine in the first round and a few seconds later he was again felled with a right hook.

Although apparently weak from punishment, Cochrane came up gamely in the second round, but only a few seconds later he was again felled with a right hook.

Stetcher was awarded the win. When the round ended Cochrane backed into his corner and collapsed. He was stretched out in his corner during the interval and had to be helped to his feet at the start of the third.

English Athletes Busy Preparing

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Reports from London indicate that the English athletic authorities are actively engaged in preparing for active participation in the Olympic games to be held in Antwerp, Belgium, next summer. Despite the fact that Great Britain lost hundreds of her best athletes during the war, the authorities are making selections for the games next year will have more material to draw from than ever before.

According to experts, this somewhat anomalous situation is due to the creation of a great new body of athletes as the result of military training and outdoor life at the front.

Tearney Issues
Call For Meeting

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 22.—President Tearney of the Western and Three I leagues Wednesday night issued calls for meetings to be held in Chicago during the second week in February, when the American and National leagues, American association and National baseball commission will be in session here.

Club owners of the Western league will meet February 19 to adopt a schedule and make other arrangements for the adoption of a 194 game program, opening the season about the middle of April.

LEWIS WINS ANOTHER.

Kearns City, Kan., Jan. 22.—Ed "Stink" Lewis defeated Ivan Kravtsov, a Russian wrestler, Wednesday night in two straight falls, both with the strangle hold. The first fall took 18 minutes, 13 seconds; the second 18 minutes, 10 seconds.

KEARNS GOING IN CIRCLES, SAYS BRONSON

By WHEELAN.

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 22.—James Bronson, manager of Bob Martin, heavyweight boxing champion of the American expeditionary force, said today that he had no information other than news reports of the telegram Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, had sent him, attacking his alleged methods in "busting" Martin in opposition to Dempsey.

"Kearns is running in circles," Bronson said. "The letter to which he refers was only a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Public, Civil and the American Legion and an announcement of a bank tide after I have received from promoters there to stage a fight between Martin and Carpentier."

"Kearns's telegram, as reported in press dispatches, evidently lays most emphasis on the resolution that to any word or act of either mine or Martin's. These resolutions were issued without any knowledge or advice. The first word I received from there was the offer of a $10,000 purse for Martin to fight with Carpentier and a copy of the resolutions was attached."

"As a matter of fact, Martin was matched with Carpentier, who was matched with the American Legion, at the instigation of the Public, Civil and the American Legion, who was matched with the American Legion, at the instigation of the Public, Civil and the American Legion."

"As for Kearns's charges that I have attempted to use my influence with the American Legion or have tried to trade on my own achievements in France, they are absolutely without foundation. I have never attempted to 'boost' Martin's stock with former soldiers in any way. They know him and his record and have followed his every fight and the actions taken by dozens of legions points came to us as big a surprise as it did to Kearns."
